Come into the Light: From a deep understanding of the role that the church building plays in the mysteries that the liturgy celebrates, Daniel McCarthy and James Leachman OSB offer a wealth of inspiring and practical ideas to transform our sacred spaces and our experience of worship within them. (<http://liturgyinstitute.org/come-into-the-light/>)

Ossa Latinitatis Sola: Reginald Foster and Daniel McCarthy provide a means by which the reader has immediate contact with and an understanding of genuine Latin authors, out of which grows a love and desire to use the entire language in all its literary genres. (<http://thelatinlanguage.org/ossa/>)

Daniel McCarthy OSB is a monk of St Benedict's Abbey, Kansas, and a professor at the Pontifical Liturgy Institute in Rome, the Liturgy Institute London at Ealing Abby, and a guest professor in liturgy at the Catholic University of Leuven in Belgium. McCarthy has published several other books with James Leachman, and writes regularly for The Tablet and other publications.
